POLISH ARMY OF 30000 MEN IS MARCHING TOWARD BERLIN

Eberts Regime Preparing to Send Fifth Army Corps to Meet the Advancing Poles

GERMAN CAPITAL DISTURBED

Events in Posen Rapidly Assuming a Serious Character. Large Part of Province in Hands of Poles. Germans Compelled to Retreat

COPENHAGEN, JANUARY 2.—(Associated Press)—A Polish army of 30,000 men is marching on Berlin, according to a dispatch received here quoting rumors from the German capital.

EBERT SENDS ARMY

Gustav Moske, member of the Ebert cabinet in charge of military affairs, is said to have ordered the Fifth German Division to meet the Poles.

POLES REACH FRANKFORT

LONDON, JANUARY 2.—(Associated Press)—Polish troops have entered Frankfort on the Oder, 50 miles east of Berlin, says a Berne dispatch to the Express which adds that the Poles have occupied Beuthen in Prussian Silesia, and Bromberg, in the Province of Posen, 60 miles northeast of the Posen city.

POLES CROSS THE FRONTIER

COPENHAGEN, JANUARY 2.—(Associated Press)—Events in Posen are assuming a grave character according to advices from Berlin. Large parts of the province are in the hands of the Poles and Polish troops have crossed the frontier. German troops there must, it is stated, retreat in the face of a superior force of the Poles.

It is also reported that the Polish government at Warsaw has ordered the mobilization of all Poles.

BERLIN TANGOED OLD YEAR AWAY

Only Disturbances to Mar Wild Joy of First Celebration Since 1914 Caused by Waiters

BERLIN, JANUARY 2.—(Associated Press)—Berlin tangoed her way out of the old year, fox trotted into 1919 and scared away Bolshevism with confetti. It was the first dancing indulged here since the outbreak of the war and revelers made the most of it.

The only disturbances were caused by a demonstration by unemployed waiters who attempted to force a general walkout. A general strike of waiters is expected Thursday.

Every restaurant and hotel dining room was closed tonight on account of the strike. The guests in the leading hotels were compelled to dine in their rooms on what they could get.

LIEBKNECHT IS BUMPED

(By Associated Press)

Copenhagen, January 2.—Dr. Karl Liebknecht was given a sharp defeat in the Spartacan congress in Berlin Tuesday.

He advocated participation by the Spartacus element in the election of members of the National assembly on grounds that the party might be able to influence the composition of the assembly.

Rosa Luxemburg, one of the Spartacan leaders, replied in a violent speech declaring amid loud applause that the "meeting of the national assembly must be prevented at all costs." Dr. Liebknecht's proposal was rejected by a vote of 63 to 23.

REACHES FRONTIER

(By Associated Press)

Paris, January 2.—(10:45 a. m.)—President Wilson and his party arrived this morning at Modane, on the Franco-Italian frontier.

GENERAL PETAIN BECOMES MARSHAL OF FRANCE

WELCOMED BY CROWDS

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Jan. 2.—The train with the President on board was met by the Duke of Lanté representing King Emmanuel. Both the French and Italian authorities in the frontier town welcomed the presidential train. The townspeople had assembled at the station and gave the president a hearty greeting. The day was bright with the winter sun shining on the snow covered mountains surrounding the town.

COLD WAVE

(By Associated Press)

Washington, January 2.—The cold wave from the northwest will cause a decided drop in temperature east of the Mississippi tonight and tomorrow, bringing the coldest weather of the winter to date.

Williston, N. D., at eight o'clock this morning, was the coldest place on the weather map, the thermometer standing at 26 degrees below zero.

In the upper Mississippi valley the plain states and Rocky Mountain and plateau states below zero temperature prevails.

Only the former empress, the specialist and two attendants are permitted to enter his room.

HOUSE LEADERS WOULD FORCE WAR BILL OVER

Resort is Had to Special Rule to Cut Off Debate and Clear Way for Revenue Measure.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, January 2.—House leaders resorted to a special rule today to force the war revenue bill through conference without holding it up for debate on demands for vote on certain Senate amendments. The rule reported by the rules committee was adopted without a roll call and with only a few scattering negative votes.

Democratic leader Kitchin announced that meeting of the conferees would begin tomorrow and continue daily until the report was ready.

It is conceded that the conferees have a long task ahead of them. The Senate virtually rewrote the measure after it was passed by the House, reducing the total levies for 1919 to about $6,000,000,000 and adding provisions for levies aggregating four billion dollars in 1920.

OHIO EXPECTED TO REACH 50 FT.

(By Associated Press)

Cincinnati, O., January 2.—A stage of between 50 feet, flood stage, and 55 feet is expected in the Ohio River at Cincinnati by late Saturday or on Sunday as result of the heavy rains in the Ohio Valley the last few days. The river at Cincinnati registered 33.8 feet at ten o'clock this morning and was rising at the rate of .3 of a foot an hour.

A moderate flood will pass out of the Kanawha, Lower Big Sandy and the lower Licking rivers this afternoon and night. Flood stages will be reached in the upper portion of the Cincinnati district Friday.

TRANSPORT AGROUND ON FIRE ISLAND

Removal of Troops From the Stranded Nessel Has Begun Great Waves and High Winds Hold Great Vessel Fast on Bar

(By Associated Press)

New York, January 2.—The constant pounding of the seas against the American transport, Northern Pacific, stranded on Fire Island since 3:30 yesterday morning, has driven the ship higher onto the beach, swinging her bow so that she was only 250 yards from the shore.

Waves larger than those which wedged her tightly into the sand bar yesterday were breaking over the transport and the wind was still blowing unfavorably from the southwest.

Removal of the troops from the vessel in small boats to Fire Island was started this afternoon.

FINE SPIRIT

(By Associated Press)

Fire Island, N. Y., January 2.—Three officers and one soldier, all wounded, were landed just before noon today from the transport Northern Pacific, stranded off here. They came ashore in a coast guard boat.

Four more boats filled with soldiers arrived soon after, while four others all belonging to the transport filled with members of the crew left the ship for the rescue vessels.

As soon as they were landed the soldiers were taken at once across the island to the flotilla of small boats to carry them to Bay Shore, seven miles away.

Meantime the lifeboats and the coast guard boats returned for more troops. The three wounded officers declared the stranded troops were in good spirits and were making merry over their predicament.

LIFEBOAT CAPSIZED

(By Associated Press)

Fire Island, N. Y., Jan. 2.—A life boat loaded with troops from the Northern Pacific was capsized by the surf, throwing 15 soldiers and life savers into the water.

One soldier and three life savers were caught under the boat. Life guards on shore rushed into the surf and after rescuing the others dragged the boat to the beach where the four who were unconscious were revived.

REMOVING ALL

(By Associated Press)

New York, Jan. 2.—Removal before night fall of the entire company of 2480 home coming American troops from the transport Northern Pacific stranded off Fire Island was expected by officials this afternoon.

It was stated this afternoon that transference of men to army and navy craft was proceeding rapidly.

CREEL QUILTS

George Creel, chairman of the Committee on Public Information has resigned and will return to the United States at once, according to a dispatch from Paris. Reports from Washington state that Mr. Creel's reported retirement from Government employ cannot be verified. It is rumored, however, that Mr. Creel has for some time considered taking up editorial work on a New York magazine.

U. S. DELEGATES CONSIDER EFFECT OF BOLSHIEVIKI

Germany Has Not Yet Submitted List of Peace Delegates.

(By Associated Press)

Paris, January 2.—Germany has not yet submitted a list of her probable peace delegates or at least no such list has been brought to the attention of the American delegation to the peace conference which is much concerned and is giving great consideration to the influence of the Bolsheviki upon the Central Powers.

Although the American representatives have received many reports of conditions in the Baltic states and in the Ukraine these reports are very conflicting and the delegates are not at all satisfied with the information at hand.

The policy of the American delegation with regard to the Russian situation and its general complications with the unrest in the Balkan and the former Russian districts has not yet taken form.

The American delegates apparently do not consider that France and England either have outlined a definite policy toward Russia.

What of Our Navy

Secretary of the Navy Daniels is asking congress to endorse and make possible the carrying forward, by the necessary legislative enactments, of a tremendous program of ship building which would place this nation second to no nation on earth as a sea power.

That does not appear very encouraging to the advocates of disarmament of nations and a permanent league of peace. Secretary Daniels' plan calls for the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars annually in the construction of fighting ships.

We would much rather hear discussed plans for disarmament and plans for ending all such tremendous expenditures during peace times.

However, if any one nation is to strive, in its own right, for supremacy on the sea, over all other nations, it is not just exactly clear how all other nations are not again to enter the race in ship construction and each nation begin again its efforts to be supreme in navy power.

Just how nations are to be free with one nation absolutely dominating the oceans is not clear either, unless all nations are content to place themselves under the protection of the one nation conceding to that one the sole right of supremacy on the sea.

That would mean that all other nations would conduct their commerce under the direction of the supreme naval power—scarcely, we fear, without its dangers when trade rivalries arise as they must.

Americans favor disarmament on land and sea in times of peace, but if that can't be accomplished, if all nations must maintain their navies we see no reason why the United States should only aspire to second place.

Why not as good or better than any other nation if we must return to the old order?

Why travel the seas and conduct commerce at the pleasure of any one nation?

State Police Protection

The method adopted for the demobilization of our armies seems to mean the disappearance of the old national guard system in the several states.

The states cannot be left without any armed police or constabulary force, available in time of extraordinary occurrence.

Ohio, along with other states of the union, will need a state police organization and the forthcoming legislature will be required to enact some legislation which will provide such a force, available for the remote rural districts as well as for service in the congested industrial centers.

There are many influential organizations and individuals who are, already, strongly advising the formation of a state police organization, in service constantly, patterned, in many respects, after the mounted police of Canada.

Such an organization would afford, perhaps, more protection than the old national guard plan as its constant service would operate as a preventive of crime more effectually than the guard organization which was called upon only after the emergency had arisen.

Prompt Action Necessary

The authorities of Switzerland met the Bolshevik delegates from Russia, upon their arrival in the mountain republic, with a line of drawn bayonets and loaded guns, kept them under constant surveillance and escorted them to the departing railroad train and saw to it that they were safely out of the country.

We like that treatment for anarchists and Bolshevik agitators—it's the only way to handle them save to stand them up with their backs to a stone wall and their faces to a firing squad.

In Bolshevism the world is face to face with another "made in Germany" peril. There must be no mistakes made in dealing with the menace as it deserves.

Under our now entirely too generous immigration laws, under our glorious guarantees of free speech and the slow grinding machinery of our courts of justice, we might have great difficulty in dealing with Bolshevism, either as it develops inside our own borders or seeks admittance at our seaports.

But a state of war still exists, notwithstanding the signing of the armistice, and this nation can deal with the menace, with all the severity its serious character demands, under the stern rules of war.

Our ports can be closed against the disturbers just as they were closed against enemies in arms. As a matter of fact these enemies are striking at the whole world of organized society. They must be dealt with as enemies with whom the nation is at war.

There must be no mandlin sentimentalism, no playing of politics. America must stand with solid front against Bolshevism wherever it shows its vile head.

POEM FOR TODAY

A FALSE ADAGE

"They serve who only stand and wait."

But I am tired of waiting!

If mankind's strife shall not abate

Why should I have so mean a fate

As weariness, self-sating?

I stand all ready for the fray,

Both mind and body willing,

Yet who will give me right of way—

The chance to work with those today

Whose deeds are truly thrilling?

How do they serve who only know

The stress of deprivation?

Far less of misery and woe

Where carnage fires all madly glow

And action brings elation!

Fain would I serve as others there,

Where precious skill is needed,

Yet I must wait, distraught with care,

Where sordid things—want, grief,

despair—

Show patriot hopes unheeded.

Far better for mankind the strains

That yield us strife and glory,

Far better for the soul war's pains,

Its toll of virile flesh and veins,

That crass inaction's story!

I do not serve who only stand

Denied all work and fighting!

The sacrifices of my hand—

What blessings bring they to a land

That hatred's sword is blighting?

I am war's waste; I, who might be

Of value, were I living!

My patriot heart can only see

Crass folly in such destiny—

Such worse than martyr-giving.

EIGHT HUNDRED NOT EIGHTEEN

The number of hours upon which Red Cross workers are asked to report to Mrs. Eva J. Penn, chairman Red Cross work shop, is 800 instead of 1800, as was printed a couple of days ago.

Red Cross headquarters has asked for a complete list of women who have given, since April 1917, 800 hours total to Red Cross work, whether knitting or sewing at home or at the work shop, and these women are asked to give their names to Mrs. Penn at once.

There are a large number of Fayette County women who are entitled to recognition for putting in this amount of work and it is to the credit of the local chapter that a large number of names are sent in.

In the years to come women may be very glad that their names are enrolled on this list of workers.

MOTHER ALL RUN DOWN

Had to Have Health, to Keep House for Four Children—What She Did

Narragansett Pier, R. I.—"I was all rundown, back ached and tired all the time. I keep house for my husband and four children and could hardly keep around. Finally I tried Vinol and it has restored my health and helped me wonderfully, so I recommend it to others who are in this condition." Mrs. Hannah Randall.

There is no secret about Vinol.—It owes its success to beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous body-building and strength creating tonics. Blackmer & Tanquary, and druggists everywhere.

P. S. For rough, scaly skin, try our Saxol Salve. Money back if it fails.

CLEVELAND IS FACING FIRE RISKS

(By Associated Press)
Cleveland, O., January 2. — Orders by Mayor Harry L. Davis for the immediate shutting down of several fire engine houses, readjustment of insurance because of the increased hazards, receipt of 50 applications for jobs as firemen and placing of all fires on the basis of special alarm schedules were the developments today in the city firemen's enforcement of the 8-hour day provision.

Since Tuesday night when the 8-hour day went into effect only three or four men have been on duty in engine houses that formerly had from 8 to 12 men.

AUTO EXPLODES WHILE ON ROAD

While Mr. and Mrs. Earnest McClain, Kenneth McClain, Misses Lena and Dora McClain, Laura Bridwell and Albert Lower of this city and county, were motoring to Urbana, a few evenings ago, to visit friends, the McClain automobile was badly damaged when a sudden explosion occurred while the machine was running along the highway.

Almost instantly part of the machine was wrapped in flames, and the occupants, regardless of the fact that all the curtains were fastened, escaped without serious injury, although Mrs. McClain fainted during the excitement, and was carried into a nearby residence. Miss Dora McClain suffered an attack of heart trouble and collapsed, but is once more able to resume her work.

Another machine carried the women to Urbana for medical attention and Mr. McClain was forced to obtain another machine to make the return journey. The damaged machine was insured.

OBITUARY

Jessie L. second son of R. A. and Emma Frances Ewick was born April 17th 1890, departed this life December 21st 1918, at the age of 28 years, 8 months and 4 days.

He was united in marriage to Bess Fernau January 31st 1916. To this union one child was given, Harold Wayne.

He was a dutiful son, obliging and kind, always ready to help when needed, and cared for the sick ones in the home until his good mother arrived from the city where she had been caring for the only daughter, who was suffering from pneumonia. He immediately was taken with that dreadful disease, influenza from which he never recovered, but was taken by it to his long home.

He was an electrician and worked at it for a number of years. He was a member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. He was a member of the Eagle's Lodge also and was kindly remembered by his brothers with a beautiful wreath of flowers.

He leaves father, mother, three brothers and one sister, a wife and little son to mourn their loss, but let us hope our loss is his eternal gain.

CO-OPERATING WITH HEALTH BOARDS

By Co-operating with the State Board of Health in every way, we are assisting in safe-guarding the Health of the State, County and Town.

The article given out by the State Board of Health, appearing in Monday's issue of this paper regarding the danger of an epidemic unless precautionary measures were taken, was no doubt read by every one.

In issuing the instructions and suggestions far in advance of any danger they are protecting everyone and we felt it our duty to co-operate fully.

Not only have we followed the instructions and suggestions minutely, but have also followed the advice of the local health authorities who are very much pleased with the thorough work done.

The employment of every scientific means indicated by the health boards, as wise precautionary measures have entailed considerable work and expense but we have left nothing undone which would assist in the preventative work now on in every section of the state.

We feel the public will welcome this statement that we have taken these steps and that we will continue to actively co-operate with the health authorities as is being done in every part of the state.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? BETTER LOOK OUT!

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with dis-treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1636 the govern-ment of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its sale.

The good housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Their use restores strength and is responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

News of Interest to Women

The old fashioned "at homes" on New Year's day have gone out with other beautiful customs. Back in the days when all women and girls remained at home and men called on them, there was courtesy and all the lovely customs of that time. Cake and wine were always served to callers, and many were the pretty toasts from the gallants of the day to the beauties who reigned over the social world, or at least in that city.

Those were informal times, even with the stiff customs then followed. Of course women were all dressed in their most charming frocks, and the men wore their best "Sunday-go-to-meeting" clothes. But no invitations were sent them. They knew courtesy demanded that they call upon every girl or woman who had been kind to them in a social way during the year, or those who had even a friendly acquaintance with them.

The Columbus Dispatch closes the above tribute to New Year's "at homes" by saying:

"The girls of today do not wait to be called on by the men. They dress and go out, with the hope of finding them somewhere—in hotels, on the street, or at the homes of friends. That may be one reason why New Year's day celebration has fallen into disuse."

We do not altogether agree with the last sentiments. It may be that "the girls of today do not wait to be called on," but isn't it because of growing independence and diverse interests rather than as the Dispatch claims with the hope of finding men more easily outside? The majority of girls today are just as careful of the spirit of the proprieties as were the girls of a decade or more ago, but the greatly changed interests of women, especially since the war, has led away from the former vogue.

Many girls having neither time nor the inclination to take up social duties that were formerly customary and much prefer doing other things to waiting to be called upon. Whether the pendulum will swing back and once again the beautiful custom of launching the new year with "the open house" be popular will depend upon conditions as they are developed in the future.

Mrs. Margaret Kroll celebrated her ninetieth birthday with an enjoyable dinner on New Year's day, at her home on East Market street. Seated with the honor guest were Mr. Leonard Dellinger, of Bloomington, Mr. Henry Dellinger and family, and Mr. Folke of Akron.

Mrs. Margaret Folke served.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Elliott entertained with an elaborate turkey dinner on New Year's day.

It was an affair of dual interest—a family gathering which was assembled for the fortieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott and proved an occasion of extraordinary pleasure.

All of the children and grandchildren were home and seated with the father and mother were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gerstner and three children; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Elliott and two children, of Boston, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Elliott, son Richard, Miss Fairy Elliott, Mrs. Chloe Jackson.

Two marked features were the using of a table cloth which had been woven by Mr. Elliott's grand father, the great-grandfather of the little tots present, and the flax spun by him seventy-five years ago and the serving of the turkey on a genuine old willow platter of the same generation.

The New Year's ball given by the University Club at the K. of P. hall tonight is arousing anticipations galore among the younger society people and a number of older folk are also planning to attend. There promises to be the usual number of out of town guests.

Parker's Orchestra, with "Parker himself" is the big drawing card and to insure the orchestra being here on the dot members of the committee are bringing the members in their own autos this afternoon.

It will be a New Year's ball that will be well worth attending.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Brown proved a very attractive young hostess at a delightful New Year's party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Brown, Wednesday night.

Games, music and light refreshments were included in the evening's jolly good time.

The guests were Misses Mary and Jane Durant, Portia and Elizabeth Brownell, Mabel Sunkle, Helen Kearney, Oliver Miller, Frank Hamilton, Augustus McDonald, Warren Baker, Roy Slagle, Ray Snider.

Regardless of rain about forty young people were present New Year's eve at the Church of Christ. The occasion was a "Watch Party" given by the Christian Endeavor Society. The evening was spent in games and a social good time. Refreshments were served. A devotional session was held at the close extending over the ending of the Old and the beginning of the New Year. It was an evening of enjoyment and profit to all who were present.

The First Presbyterian Church, aglow with light and Christmas decorations presented a cheery contrast to the gloomy outside conditions of New Year's Eve and people who braved the deluge of rain to gather socially and to meet Rev. and Mrs. J. L. McWilliams, found the pleasure of the informal evening well worth the effort.

Naturally the attendance was lessened by the untoward weather to the regret of both entertainers and entertained.

The reception line was formed by Rev. and Mrs. McWilliams, Mrs. Wm. B. Gage, who introduced them, the elders of the church and their wives. Every one enjoyed meeting the popular minister and his delightful wife who were most responsive to the cordial welcomes extended.

The pleasure of the hour was greatly enhanced by beautiful orchestral numbers, splendidly played by the High School Orchestra, while the cornetist, Oliver L. Tracy, contributed vocal number to the delight of the listeners.

In the basement dining room, where poinsettias and Christmas greens, were gayly in evidence, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Lulu H. Robinson and Mrs. G. W. Blakely poured at a pretty tea table, having for its central decoration a beautiful begonia in radiant bloom.

The arrangements were under the competent management of Mrs. J. F. Dennis, President, and the Executive Committee of the Woman's Guild of the Church, which entertained the affair.

Mr. Samuel J. Wittenmyer of Alledo, Illinois, and Miss Cora Shafer, were united in marriage, New Year's Day at four-thirty o'clock at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. Arthur P. Cherrington.

The ceremony was witnessed by the brides sister Miss Lena Shafer. The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Shafer of Circle avenue was attractively gowned in white crepe de chine prettily trimmed with white lace and pearl beads.

Prior to the happy couple's departure on the 5:45 for a short wedding trip, an elaborate dinner was served at the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wittenmyer will make their future home at Alledo, Illinois, where the groom is engaged in farming, but expect to visit relatives in Ohio for several weeks before leaving for the West.

The many friends of the bride in this city join with those of the groom in his native city, in extending best wishes.

An exceedingly jolly watch party was given by the Chi Delta Chi Club New Year's Eve at the home of Miss Rosalie Slagle.

There was informal dancing, and the ringing of the bell at midnight by members of the party, was a feature of the evening.

The girls of the club with their escorts were Misses Mary Hanna Bliss Rosalie Slagle, Eleanore Jones, Helen Durant, Ruth Brown, Ruth Hagler, Helen Baker, Isabelle O'Neal, Jocelyn Bowen, Aileen Hess, Helen McKee; Willis Willis, Joe Wilson, William Henry Edwards, Robert Reardon, Frank Jamison Dennison Clarke, Edwin Shoop, Willard Parrill, Grove Davis, Mallow Hall, Howard Gregg, Thomas Rogers and Cyril Moore.

Miss Harriet Shannon of Denver, Colo., and Miss Marion Foster of Waverly were out of town guests.

Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Brock and little daughter, Betty went to Columbus, Tuesday evening to spend a few days with Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Brock and to attend the New Year's Eve dinner at the Ionian room at the Deshler Hotel. Mrs. J. W. Kimball, Mr. Wert Baughn and family joined them in Columbus, Wednesday morning for New Year's.

Pvt. Calvin Johnson is home on a furlough from Camp Taylor, Ky., visiting his aunt Mrs. Bert Reynolds.

Mrs. Omar Rapp and sister Miss Edna Siemon returned New Year's evening from a few days visit with friends at Delaware.

WATCH SERVICES PROVE POPULAR

In keeping with the request that all the Methodist church of the country hold watch meetings on New Year's eve the Methodist churches of Bloomingburg and this city, responded. At the Bloomingburg church, one of the most enjoyable social seasons in church annals was enjoyed. Short impromptu speeches, on the centenary movement were made by the laymen, and music was added to the program.

Fifty members of the church with their friends were in attendance, and remained until the midnight hour.

Rev. J. G. Laughlin and Mrs. Laughlin very generously donated the refreshments.

At the Methodist church in this city Dr. F. J. Johnson made a fine address on the Centenary Movement, following a brief song service, and explained what the movement really is in order that the people might understand it better. Attention was also called to the period of the campaign which extends from now until June.

At ten o'clock refreshments were served, the meeting closing with Scripture and prayer, and the singing of the hymn "True Hearted, Whole Hearted."

The committee on refreshments were Mrs. Frank Kennedy, President, W. F. Missionary Society; Mrs. H. W. Willis, President of Home Missionary Society, and Mrs. Herbert Chapman, President of the Y. W. F. M. Society, assisted by other members of the church.

An opportunity was given for the meeting of the Sunday School Board and other organizations of the church.

Under the direction of Mr. Smith, the Palace has been conducted along strictly high class lines and this policy will be followed by Mr. McLean whose plans call for keeping the Palace a model theatre, maintaining the same high standard of service and presenting the best obtainable in the moving picture world.

BUFFALO DINNER BRINGS MEMORIES TO PARTICIPANTS

Not in many seasons has there been an affair of the unique interest that marked the stag dinner entertained by Dr. Carey Persinger at his home Monday night. The guests were continued to Rev. J. L. McWilliams and the elders of the First Presbyterian church, Messrs. J. W. Rothrock, P. S. Pinkerton, J. A. Walker, Austin F. Hopkins, Frank M. Fullerton and C. A. Reid, all of whom were present but Mr. Rothrock, detained by illness. The dinner was a happy inspiration following the receiving by Dr. Persinger of an immense buffalo roast from Goodnight's ranch, Texas, sent by Mr. Martin, of Claude, Texas, who manages the ranch and whose daughter, recently a guest at the Persinger home, is a niece of Mr. Goodnight.

While everything necessary to a perfect dinner flanked the roast, yet it was this delicious meat of frontier days, almost unknown in this section of the country, which both whetted the appetites and gratified them to the keenest extent.

The buffalo meat not only aroused unqualified approval, but also stirred latent interest in this splendid animal of primitive days and Dr. Persinger was in possession of data and information that was eagerly listened to by his guests.

The total number of buffalo, or bison, in the world today is less than 2,000 and most of them in parks. Several national herds have been established to preserve this animal to America, but this ranch in Texas has the distinction of bringing the only one descended from animals roped on the plains or for the owner and the possession of such a herd as is found in Goodnight's ranch is a matter of great local pride in the Lone Star State.

The history of this ranch teems with romance and on it reigned "Mary Goodnight, Queen of the Canyon" with no other woman from the Red to the Rio Grande on the south and as broad distances north, east and west to contest her superiority. The ranch was established in 1877, when Mrs. Goodnight came from Trinidad, Colo., to Palo Duro Canyon, to make a home for her husband and brothers and to take a leading part in the transforming of the happy hunting ground of the Panhandle Indians into the happy and comfortable homes of ninety thousand white men, women and children.

Long in this territory will linger the memory of Mrs. Goodnight's house party, with three hundred guests to plan and provide for, in dians to camp at the ranch as long as they pleased if peaceable, and the few and simple terms of the peace treaty easily concluded. The history of those days, with the pioneer difficulties and treachery makes one of the most exciting of tales.

Nor does the old-time plainsman scorn an invitation to a buffalo hunt on this famous ranch today and the plain's people or the younger generation are curious enough to see what such a chase might have been in the days when the bison held unclouded title to the expanse between the Rockies and the Mississippi.

When Col. Charles Goodnight decided to hold a buffalo hunt on the sixth day of October, 1916, he never dreamed that it would attract thousands who never before had witnessed such a spectacle. Automobiles alone brought 1,462 spectators.

It was a historic crowd. Ten Kiowa braves from the reservation near Lawton, Okla., were there. They were to be part of the private show. The daughter of old Chief Satank was there with her high-cheeked boned husband who speaks most excellent English. She was the last born of Satank.

Indians and pale-faces chatted like comrades of the incidents of long, long ago, when the comradeship was more or less divided into distinct groups. Kiowa George described the Sundance. There was not a single "heap big" in the telling. Modern Kiowa in the dark might be taken for an English purist.

When everything was ready for the hunt, out of the corral and down a half-mile-long lane, the four-year-old bison was driven. Once into the broad and level pastures, the excited animals raced away from the painted riders. Was it Kiowa George, was it Old Horse, wrinkled and 73, or was it Luther Sahmout, wiry and nervous, who sped the arrow that first tapped the heart of the plunging bison? To the lightning eye of the plainsman, it was as if three arrows at once found their mark.

It was all over in a twinkling. The Redskins dragged the carcass back up the lane and flayed it and they were given some of the meat to take back to the reservation for their sundance.

Today 10,000 people travel miles to see one bison killed.

Outside of a pitifully small herd in Yellowstone National Park and a few here and there in captivity, even the school child known there are no buffalo any more in the United States of America. Once there were millions.

Thirty years ago, Col. Charles Goodnight foreseeing the inevitable extinction of the species, penned up a pair of buffalo and declared the beginning of a buffalo ranch. Now his herd numbers 173 and is the only buffalo ranch in the country.

It was the telling of these tales of the plains and many more while enjoying the dinner, with its garnishing of modern Christmas cheer, that made the occasion at Dr. Persinger's memorable.

STREETS UP TOWN IN BAD CONDITION

The streets in the up-town part of the city are becoming very disagreeable generally because of the long period which has elapsed since the streets have been cleaned.

The recent rains and melting snows have conspired to make the surface of the streets highly dangerous and disagreeable in the extreme.

Not since the winter set in have the up-town streets been cleaned thoroughly.
